The Solution: SciVal Funding

The ideal web-based funding intelligence solution would address the following:

- Which funding opportunities are most relevant to me?
- How do I determine whether an opportunity is worth pursuing?
- How do I stay up-to-date regarding new and emerging funding opportunities?
- Who are the important researchers in a given field?
- What research projects were awarded in the past?
- What publications are related to those awards?

Find the right funding opportunities

- Easy one-stop access to funding opportunities
- Search and browse comprehensive, accurate and current funding opportunity content

Analyze the funding environment

- Access award data for funding performance measurement, evaluation and strategic planning
- Learn what publications are linked to certain funding programs

Maximize award chances

- Receive targeted funding opportunity recommendations and alerts based on pre-populated research profiles
- Tailor a proposal based on award data and resulting research information
