COLLEGE OF ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS

EXCELLENCE IN CLINICAL TEACHING AWARD
CRITERIA FOR SELECTION

The College of Allied Health Professions has established an annual Excellence in Clinical Teaching Award to recognize a clinical preceptor who has demonstrated excellence in clinical teaching and has made significant contributions to the educational development of future allied health professionals. All faculty and students of the College of Allied Health Professions may nominate candidates for this award.

The recipient of this award may not be from the same program within a 3 year cycle.

To be eligible for this award, the preceptor must have supervised UNMC students.

Supportive materials required for consideration include:

1) Nominators letter of support commenting on the following:
   - How did the preceptor motivate and inspire students to learn and foster independent learning?
   - How is the preceptor a role model of professional behavior (initiative, accountability, compassion, professional development, integrity, etc.)?
   - Describe how the preceptor epitomizes at least one of the ITEACH core values listed below.

Innovation: Search for a better way. Seek and implement ideas and approaches that can change the way the world discovers, teaches and heals. Drive transformational change.

Teamwork: Respect diversity and one another. Communicate effectively and listen well. Be approachable and courteous. There is no limit to what we can achieve when we work together.

Excellence: Strive for the highest standards of safety and quality in all that you do. Work to achieve exceptional results.

Accountability: Commit. Take ownership. Be resilient, transparent and honest. Always do the right thing and continuously learn.

Courage: Make the tough decisions. Have no fear of failure in the pursuit of excellence. Admit mistakes and learn from them.

Healing: Show the empathy you feel. Be selfless in caring for patients, one another and the community.
