COLLEGE OF ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS

AWARD FOR OUTSTANDING SERVICE
TO THE ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS
CRITERIA FOR SELECTION

In 1977, the College of Allied Health Professions established an Award for Outstanding Service to the Allied Health Professions. The purpose of this award is to honor an individual whose contributions to the education or the body of knowledge of the allied health professions has been significant to the advancement of the professions or to health care in general.

All active faculty and students of the College of Allied Health Professions may nominate candidates for this award. Nominees should be individuals whose contributions are significant to the advancement of the professions, health care in general, or to allied health education. The nominee may be a full-time, part-time, or volunteer faculty member at UNMC or elsewhere, or a lay person. He or she need not have had an affiliation with the University of Nebraska.

The criteria to be used in nomination and final selection follows. It is understood that no candidate is expected to fulfill all of these criteria, but they are offered as guidelines for making an appropriate choice of this award.

The nominee may be one:

- who has been instrumental in promoting the concept, growth, and/or the development of College of Allied Health.
- who has spent effort, time, or money to further one or more programs of the allied health professions.
- who has developed innovative teaching which has benefited the allied health schools, and whose excellence in teaching has largely contributed to the success of one or more programs.
- whose research has contributed to health care or the basic sciences related to health care.
- whose scope of contributions includes teaching, research, service, or clinical care in more than one discipline.
- who has a long and distinguished record of service in the allied health professions.
- who has received recognition and praise from his peers for his work in the allied health professions.

Supportive materials required for consideration include:

1. Nominator’s letter of support.
2. Two additional solicited letters of support from colleagues of the nominee, not more than three (3), recommended one page in length. (Longer letters will not be held against the nominee, submit as sent.)
