THE GRADUATE STUDIES INNOVATION FUND SUPPORTED the people and programs of the University of Nebraska Medical Center Alumni Association — a crucial resource as the graduate studies program builds its communication vehicles, engagement programs and activities for graduate students and alumni across the country.

“UNMC’s graduate students are critical to the ongoing breakthroughs and discoveries across our research enterprise. Over 700 graduate students, representing the third-largest student segment at UNMC, are on the frontlines of health care advancements each day. The Graduate Studies Innovation Fund is a key resource for the dean of Graduate Studies to support these graduate students along their educational journey.”

Karen Gould, PhD

Interim Dean, Graduate Studies

Vice Chair and Professor for Faculty Development, Department of Genetics, Cell Biology and Anatomy
