

Alcohol and Cancer: What you should know

Starting to drink alcohol at a young age and drinking more over time can increase risk of cancer

Parents and caregivers can play an important role by talking with kids and teens about the risks of underage drinking

Cutting back on alcohol is a healthy choice that can reduce cancer risk, but it does not eliminate it

