Team effort required to implement a bold
new strategic plan

see pg 12

From the Dean

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

It has been an exciting fall with the launch of our new clinical education model and our new five-year strategic plan, all of which would not be possible without multiple teams working together. We also welcomed home, record numbers of graduates for our alumni reunion events.

On Aug. 22, we launched the new clinical model. The feedback from our faculty, staff and students has been extremely positive. There is tremendous energy and momentum in the clinics and a true team spirit. I believe that one of the most important aspects of the launch and implementation of the model is the weekly broad-based feedback from all participants regarding things that are working well and things we can improve upon. The students especially enjoy the practice-like atmosphere and the comprehensive management of their patients.

In this issue, we are pleased to highlight the nearly yearlong grass roots process in developing our bold new five-year strategic plan. I especially want to thank Drs. Wayne Kaldahl and Jim Wahl for their outstanding leadership in serving as chairs and liaisons for the teams overseeing this process, as well as for gathering and assimilating information and feedback from faculty, staff, students, friends and stakeholders of the college. We challenged ourselves to look into the future and establish goals that are unique to our college, keeping in mind that we frame this important work to meet our missions of education, research and service. We recognize the ambitious team effort that will be required to accomplish our goals over the next five years.

Also in this issue...

- We welcome the newest members of our collegiate team:
 - Dr. Marianne Day – adult restorative department
 - Dr. Robin Hattervig – adult restorative department
 - Dr. Byan Skar – growth and development department
 - Our new students
- We congratulate our loyal alumni team who celebrated with us this fall, including our honor classes and our distinguished awardees.
- We celebrate the 50th anniversary of our dental hygiene department — historically and currently - a devoted team that has made this a nationally renowned program!
- And we acknowledge the team of so many wonderful alumni and friends of the college who have provided amazing support to the college through their many gifts — Thank you!

Marianne R. Day, D.D.S.

Hometown:

Las Cruces, N.M.

Title and department:

Assistant professor, adult restorative dentistry

Research and professional interests:

History comes to mind right now but I love to imagine ideas. I enjoy working with students, teaching them the ins and outs of dentistry.

How I fell in love with dentistry:

My older brother loved dentistry from an early age. He went off to his D1 semester at Oregon, came home at Christmas and somehow convinced me that it would be a great profession for me as a woman. Interestingly, I have no clue how to practice orthodontics (his specialty degree). The two of us are the only known dentists in our family. We also are the only generation as my nieces and my children are not even interested. My son said he didn't want to be a dentist as I studied too much.

Degrees:

Doctor of dental surgery, University of Washington in Seattle

I am working on my master's degree in education, too.

Memberships:

American Dental Association, Academy of General Dentistry, International Congress of Oral Implantologists, American Dental Society of Anesthesiology, American Dental Education Association

Three things people may not know about me:

- I competed in equestrian competition at the regional level in dressage, show jumping and event, acquiring both regional and national honors.
- I am a fervent reader and read several books at one time — drives my husband crazy.
- I love to explore. I already have a bucket list of things to see and do here in Nebraska and the surrounding areas. The Eisenhower Presidential Library is on the list.

New Faculty

Robin Hattervig, D.D.S.

Hometown: Howard, S.D.

Title and department: Red group clinical leader, adult restorative dentistry

Research and professional interests: General dentistry — I especially enjoy exodontia and endodontics.

How I fell in love with dentistry:

As a young person I enjoyed working with my hands, primarily building model cars and airplanes. I also enjoyed the sciences and looking at maps, so I put them together and went into dentistry. After being in dentistry for some years, I began to enjoy the human aspect of it, in addition to the mechanical aspect of it, and began to enjoy working with fearful patients. Then, a few years ago, I discovered that I enjoyed the teaching aspect of dentistry while working with D4 dental students from the University of Minnesota who were on outreach rotations from their school. That led me here to the UNMC College of Dentistry teaching what I love doing.

Degrees: Bachelor's degree, University of South Dakota; doctor of dental surgery, UNMC College of Dentistry

Memberships: American and South Dakota Dental Associations, Academy of General Dentistry, International College of Dentists, Pierre Fauchard Academy and Omicron Kappa Upsilon

Three things people may not know about me:

- I grew up on a dairy farm in South Dakota and had the opportunity to do a wide variety of farm work along with many life experiences.
- I was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of South Dakota.
- My youngest son, Tate, grew up an avid Cornhuskers fan attending most of the Cornhuskers football games with me. He now attends the University of Wisconsin in Madison and plans on earning a Ph.D. in genetics.

from the UNMC College of Dentistry, pediatric dental certificate from the UNMC College of Dentistry Pediatric Dental Residency program

Memberships: Board certified member and diplomate of the American Board of Pediatric Dentistry; member of the College of the American Board of Pediatric Dentistry; member of the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry; member of the American Dental Association and the Omaha District Dental Society

Three things people may not know about me:

- I was 8-years-old, the same age as the main character Kevin McCallister, when the movie "Home Alone" was released. It remains one of my favorite movies, and one I watch a few times each year during the holiday season.
- I didn't learn to snow ski until I was 24-years-old and in dental school.
- Besides being a pediatric dentist, my second favorite job was coaching a youth swim team.

Hometown: Omaha, Neb.

Title and department: Assistant professor in the pediatric dental residency program in the department of growth and development

Research and Professional Interests: Hospital-based dentistry and infant oral health and the role of early education and intervention in preventing dental disease

How I fell in love with pediatric dentistry:

I have always been curious about nature and how things worked which led to a love of science and in particular the health sciences. While studying biology at Creighton University I was lucky enough to meet and shadow Dr. Curtis Kuster at the UNMC College of Dentistry. Dr. Kuster is such a charismatic, inspiring and genuinely kind person, I naturally wanted to pursue a career in the field he was so passionate about.

Four dental leaders honored

The 2016 Alumni Reunion sponsored by the UNMC College of Dentistry Alumni Association was an opportunity to celebrate long-standing friendships as well as to honor alumni, faculty and friends who have provided distinguished service to the college and the dental profession. The following individuals were recognized at the reunion's banquet and awards presentation:

Honorary Life Membership Award

Dr. Janet M. Guthmiller

UNMC College of Dentistry Dean Janet M. Guthmiller, D.D.S., Ph.D., a native of Orange City, Iowa, received the 2016 Honorary Life Membership Alumni Award from the UNMC College of Dentistry Alumni Association, for her dedication to dental education and support of the college.

Dr. Guthmiller earned an associates in dental hygiene from the University of South Dakota; bachelor's degree from Northwestern College; doctor of dental surgery from the University of Iowa College of Dentistry; and periodontal certificate and doctorate in cellular and structural biology from the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio as a part of the NIH-sponsored dentist-scientist program.

Prior to her appointment as dean of the College of Dentistry, Dr. Guthmiller served as the associate dean for academic affairs and a professor in the department of periodontology at the University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill School of Dentistry. She also served on the faculty at the University of Iowa College of Dentistry and the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery where she was involved with predoctoral and postdoctoral education, maintained a private practice and performed research. Dr. Guthmiller's National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research-funded research has encompassed molecular biological studies of periodontal pathogens and expression and function of innate antimicrobials. She has published numerous manuscripts and abstracts.

Dr. Guthmiller has been the recipient of collegiate, university and national teaching and mentoring awards. Last fall she received the Distinguished Alumni Award for Professional Achievement from Northwestern College and this spring she received the 2016 Distinguished Alumnus Award from the Cellular & Structural Biology program at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio.

Dr. Guthmiller has mentored more than 40 students, many of whom have received national research awards and leadership recognition. She is a diplomate of the American Board of Periodontology, a fellow in the International College of Dentists and American College of Dentists, a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, a commission consultant for the Commission on Dental Accreditation and associate editor for Oral Health at MedEdPORTAL Publications.

Alumni Achievement Award

Gwen L. Hlava

Gwen L. Hlava, professor and chair of the department of dental hygiene at the UNMC College of Dentistry, received the 2016 Alumni Achievement Award from the UNMC College of Dentistry Alumni Association for her contributions to the dental profession in the areas of research, educations and service.

Hlava received her bachelor's degree in dental hygiene from the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry in 1972 and a master's degree in dental hygiene from the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Dentistry in 1975.

Her first teaching position was at the University of Minnesota School of Dentistry. One year later, Nebraska called with a position opening, and with family in Lincoln the decision was made to return home. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the dental hygiene program and also marks Hlava's 40th year at the College of Dentistry as well as her 30th year as chair of the department of dental hygiene.

Hlava counts among her greatest achievements:

- Founding the West Division Dental Hygiene Program in 2002 to educate students from rural areas with the hope that they would remain in the area to practice upon graduation. The program precipitated the use of distance learning in the College of Dentistry.
- Development of the dental sealant program in 2001. The program started in four elementary schools in north Omaha and today serves 25 low-income schools in Omaha, Lincoln and the Panhandle.
- An astonishing success rate on both National and Clinical Board exams by students in the program.

Friends reunite and reminisce

Orba Scheurs had two children of her own, but for 23 years she was like a second mother to hundreds of dental hygiene students attending UNMC's College of Dentistry.

As the administrative assistant to the director, Scheurs got to know each student as they entered the program.

"They were wonderful students," a 97-year-old Scheurs recently said.

Scheurs began working in the newly formed dental hygiene department in 1963 under its first director Betty Warner and then College of Dentistry Dean Ralph Ireland, D.D.S.

At the time, Warner was new to Lincoln, having just moved from Michigan to Nebraska, so Scheurs became her tour guide.

"We spent that first summer buying the supplies and equipment the hygiene students would use - we even picked out the flooring that would be installed before classes began that fall," she said.

Scheurs, who began her career working in student administration at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in 1954, retired as the administrative assistant to former College of Dentistry Dean Richard Bradley, D.D.S., in 1986.

"It was more than just a job for me," Scheurs said. "I never regretted one day."

Dean's Club Banquet

College of Dentistry unveils new five-year strategic plan

The UNMC College of Dentistry has implemented a new comprehensive, five-year strategic plan with nearly 100 initiatives and five major priority areas, thanks to input from faculty, staff, students and other stakeholders.

"This was truly a grass roots effort," said College of Dentistry Dean Janet Guthmiller, D.D.S., Ph.D. "We enlisted not just the college but alumni, UNMC administrators and other constituents for input."

That input was collected for almost a year by an outside consultant, AAL, the Academy for Academic Leadership, through surveys, focus groups, workshops, town halls and phone interviews.

The end result, Dr. Guthmiller said, is a living document that will strengthen the college for years to come.

"The response was overwhelming, with a 70 percent participation rate," said Wayne Kaldahl, D.D.S., a professor in the department of surgical specialties who chaired the strategic planning steering committee.

The plan is broken into five key areas: education; clinical education and operations; research and scholarly activities; cultural characteristics; and community outreach and service.

"Each of these key areas is meant to more clearly define the purpose of the organization and to establish realistic goals and objectives consistent with the mission," said Elizabeth Cullinane, a dental clinic supervisor who was a part of the planning process and is now on the implementation oversight committee.

Strategic plan key priority areas

The following are the overarching priorities of the strategic plan, and the goals within each of the priority areas that will be implemented over the next five years:

Education Model

- Continually review and revise a comprehensive curriculum to educate oral health care providers for the future;
- Utilize new and evolving evidence-based educational methodologies; and
- Collaborate with other UNMC colleges, Nebraska Medicine and other educational partners to enhance oral health education.

Clinical Education Programs and Operations

- Implement a group practice model for clinical education;
- Achieve excellence in empathetic, patient-centered care using evidenced-based treatment approaches;
- Enhance and implement clinical programs through partnerships with UNMC academic units, Nebraska Medicine, Nebraska-Western Iowa Veterans Administration and other private and public entities;
- Achieve clinical financial sustainability; and
- Optimize use of existing and future technology across all levels of the oral health care team.

Research and Scholarly Activities

- Develop a nationally-recognized program of excellence in oral cancer research;
- Increase extramural research funding and the number of peer-reviewed publications; and
- Expand student involvement through research enrichment programs as part of their professional degree program of study.

Cultural Characteristics

- Create a climate of respect and collegiality among all members of the faculty, staff and students;
- Strengthen employee loyalty, engagement and satisfaction;
- Enhance recruitment of a well-qualified, diverse student body; and
- Increase wellness opportunities for faculty, staff and students.

Community Outreach and Service

- Enhance oral health in the state and region through new and existing programs and partnerships;
- Engage and strengthen relationships with alumni; and
- Strengthen continuing education capacity and programming.

One important outcome of the strategic plan that already has been implemented is the new clinical model introduced at the start of the 2016-17 academic year.

"In the short time that it has been implemented, students, faculty, staff and patients have been extremely positive about the new model and there is a tremendous amount of energy and momentum surrounding it," Dean Guthmiller said.

And while the list of goals and initiatives already show promise, there is flexibility in the plan to allow for change over the next five years.

"The plan will be reviewed on a quarterly basis by a core group of faculty, staff and students," Dean Guthmiller said.

"We are always trying to improve, and reviewing the plan on a regular basis reflects this core principle," said Jim Wahl, Ph.D., an associate professor in the department of oral biology, who was a co-leader of the planning process and now chairs the strategic planning implementation oversight committee which oversees the implementation processes.

Students played a critical role in shaping the strategic plan. Erica Jasa, D.D.S., a first-year periodontal resident, said it was an honor to serve on the committee and give voice to decisions impacting her education and the college's future.

"As a student I was encouraged to share my input and felt my opinions and ideas were valued as I was able to bring a different perspective to many of the conversations," Dr. Jasa said. "The new strategic plan encourages growth for the College of Dentistry, strives to make us a leader in education and health care, and will help attract high-quality students, staff and faculty."

Mission

The mission of the UNMC College of Dentistry is to continually improve the oral health of the people of Nebraska and beyond through a humanistic approach to education, extraordinary patient care, and innovative research.

Vision

The UNMC College of Dentistry will transform oral health care in Nebraska by implementing exceptional education, collaborative research, community service, and integration with the health care team to achieve patient-centered care.

Values

We value our strong sense of community. We are committed to compassionate care, collaborative learning, and the continuous exploration of knowledge. We demonstrate integrity, accountability, intellectual curiosity, and passion in everything we do. We respect diversity and its contributions to our culture of excellence.

Engaged Alumni: COD faculty and alumni author new book

Dental schools across the country now have the latest information on dental practice management thanks to faculty and alumni of the University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Dentistry.

The second edition of "Dental Practice Transition: A Practical Guide to Management," is now available and features eight authors, six of whom are also alumni of the College of Dentistry.

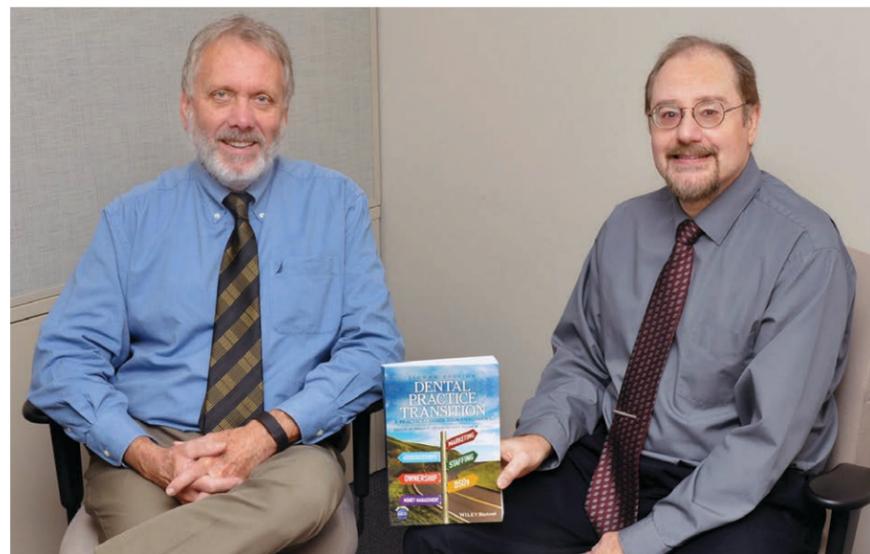

"What a privilege it was for me to contribute to this book," said Darold Opp, D.D.S., a 1984 alumnus of the College of Dentistry, who wrote the chapter on external marketing.

"Each fall I have the opportunity to speak to the D-4 students and the topic always revolves around external marketing," Dr. Opp said.

The 528-page guide, co-edited by David Dunning, Ph.D., and Brian Lange, Ph.D., professors of oral biology at the College of Dentistry, covers key aspects of practice management and transition into private practice. It is one of three currently being used in dental schools across the country.

"It's a hot topic," Dr. Lange said. "This book provides a comprehensive overview and is designed to be a resource for any dentist entering into practice, returning to dental practice or changing practices."

David Neumeister, D.D.S., who authored

a chapter on staff meetings, agrees and added, "The beauty of this book is that it teaches those soft skills that aren't necessarily taught in dental school but are just as critical to a student's future success in practice as the clinical skills we teach."

The 26 chapters of the book are broken into seven parts that focus on topics such as: an introduction to practice transition, marketing and patient communication to managing staff and money management.

Chapters written by College of Dentistry alumni include:

- "Starting a Dental Practice," Drs. Bradley Alderman and Tyler Smith, co-authors;
- "Chairside Communication with Patients," Drs. David Dunning and Brian Lange;

- "Personal Finance, Investments and Retirement Options," Dr. Brian Lange, co-author;
- "Business Entities," Dr. Ross Crist, co-author;
- "Dental Fees, Fee Setting, and Financial Policies for Patients," Dr. Robert Madden, lead author;
- "External Marketing," Dr. Darold Opp, sole author; and
- "Staff Meetings," Dr. David Neumeister, sole author

"So much has changed in the past eight years since we edited the first edition," Dr. Dunning said. "The rise of dental service organizations, changes in practice models and mounting student debt are all key issues discussed in the book."

Dental care part of athlete screenings

Five faculty members and two students from the UNMC College of Dentistry recently took part in a day-long dental screening for nearly 200 athletes competing in the fall games of Special Olympics Nebraska.

Dubbed Special Smiles, the event is part of a larger Healthy Athlete initiative by the Special Olympics. At the event the athletes were given free dental screenings, comprehensive oral health care information and fitted for mouth guards. The event was held at the Abbott Sports Complex in Lincoln.

"Dental care is one of the most overlooked, yet easily treated health care issues many of our athletes face," said Alisa Hoffman, director of health and community services with Special Olympics Nebraska.

Hoffman said that over the years the Special Smiles program has revealed that:

- 47% of the athletes screened have periodontal conditions;
- 37% have untreated tooth decay;
- 14% are in need of urgent care; and
- 14% have dental pain.

Volunteer Ellen Hahn, D.D.S., Ph.D., associate professor in surgical specialties at the College of Dentistry, said she enjoyed meeting the athletes.

"The athletes and their family members were so appreciative of what we could do for them," Dr. Hahn said. "It was a great event."

A shining example of serving others

Through his actions, James Jenkins, D.D.S., a professor at the UNMC College of Dentistry, defines what it means to be a man for others.

Dr. Jenkins has helped thousands of people access much needed dental care through his volunteer service, including the Nebraska Mission of Mercy, a program he helped bring to Nebraska in 2005, his outreach to villagers in Haiti and Honduras, and underserved men, women and children in Lincoln and across the state through his work at People's City Mission, Clinic with a Heart, Project Homeless Connect, and the UNMC College of Dentistry's dental SHARING clinic and Children's Dental Day events.

His service was recognized Sept. 16 when he received the Woody Varner Award from The Lighthouse organization, an after-school program for middle and high school at-risk youth in Lincoln.

"Jim is a very worthy recipient," said Pete Allman, who co-founded The Lighthouse program in 1990 with his wife Maureen and friend Jim Perry.

"What he's given back to the community to make it a better place, what he's done to help those in need, those are the qualities we look for in a person to give the award to," Allman said.

The award is named for Durwood B. "Woody" Varner, the former chancellor and president of the University of Nebraska, who believed in giving back to one's community.

Dr. Jenkins emulates that same belief and has been a strong supporter of The Lighthouse, Allman said.

"It was really nice of them to give me the award," Dr. Jenkins said. "Helping those less fortunate is part of our mission at the College of Dentistry and I really enjoy doing what I can to help The Lighthouse. It's just a great program."

Dr. Jenkins first became involved with The Lighthouse when Allman, a fraternity brother, approached him about getting Raw Nerve, (a rock and soul band comprised mostly of dentists in which Dr. Jenkins performs), to play at their first fundraiser.

Since then, Dr. Jenkins has been involved in helping contribute to their capital campaign events for the past 20 years.

Dr. Jenkins said supporting The Lighthouse offered him the opportunity to serve others in a way that was different than what he does through his dental outreach.

"It's so important to promote positive things in the community that give youth the guidance, mentoring and support they need to be successful," he said.

College of Dentistry Remembers

Lewis L. Buell, D.D.S., '50, Phoenix, Ariz., died June 3, 2016. Dr. Buell served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy in Europe and the Pacific during World War II. Upon discharge from the Navy, Dr. Buell entered the University of Nebraska Dental School, graduating in 1950. He practiced dentistry in Grand Forks, N.D., for 34 years.
