

Power Presentations Faculty

Chad E. Branecki, MD

Dr. Chad Branecki is an Assistant Professor and Associate Residency Program Director in the Department of Emergency Medicine. He aims to maximize images and stories as an effective strategy to aid retention and enrich learning.

Martina A. Clarke, PhD

Dr. Martina Clarke is a researcher and Assistant Professor in the Division of Cardiovascular Medicine, Internal Medicine. She is a self-proclaimed introvert who learned to overcome her fears and conquer the stage!

Faye L. Haggar, MS, EdD

Dr. Faye Haggar is a faculty member and instructional designer in the Department of Anesthesiology. She is an ENFJ technology nerd with a love for learning. Dr. Haggar takes great pride in working with others to solve wicked problems while improving ourselves and our communities.

Linda M. Love, EdD

Dr. Linda M. Love is the Director of Faculty Development and an Assistant Professor in the Department of Psychiatry. After watching too many failed presentations in the digital age, she began coaching faculty on practical ways to have better outcomes in our learning environments and on the national stage.

Michael Smith, MD

Dr. Michael Smith is an Academic Hospitalist and Assistant Professor in the Department of Internal Medicine. With five years of experience in improv theater at the Backline Comedy Theater, he has developed a unique approach to improving all type of communication, ranging from day-to-day interactions to on stage in front of an audience.
