

Power Presentations

A THREE-PART SERIES

YOU SHOULD ATTEND IF ...

- You know to advance your career you need to make a presentation to a national audience ... gulp.
- Your last lecture was a complete dud, you know it, your students know it, and now your boss knows it ... ugh.
- You've been tapped on the shoulder to share a cutting edge treatment idea with a group of local stakeholders ... wow!

ATTEND ALL 3 SESSIONS

All participants must commit to all three sessions of this program, without exception, and must be free from clinical or other responsibilities.

- Monday, Sept. 9, 3:00PM – 6:00PM
- Monday, Sept. 16, 3:00PM – 6:00PM
- Monday, Sept. 30, 3:00PM – 6:00PM

At completion, you will receive a certificate to include in your teaching or professional development portfolio.

REGISTER TODAY

Registration is limited to provide a highly interactive learning environment. Register online now at unmc.edu/facdev.

Presentations are a core function in academia. Ensure you are speaking so they remember you and your message.

Communication is an important determinant of job retention, pay scale, and advancement. Presentations are a high stakes means of communicating ideas, science, knowledge, and change, and are a core function in academic life.

Join us for a three-part session where you will gain valuable information about presenting in the digital age and receive real-time mentoring and feedback to improve your personal performance on stage or in the classroom. All participants must commit to all three sessions, without exception.

Following this workshop, you will be able to:

- Assess teaching and/or presenting approaches that maximize audience engagement.
- Develop an effective presentation or lecture delivery plan.
- Produce an impactful presentation utilizing key aspects of voice, body language, eye contact, stage presence, slide deck design, audience engagement strategies, and storytelling.

Register at unmc.edu/facdev and complete a brief survey to tell us about your learning goals. Registration is limited, so it is important to register now.
