How to Use this Book

The THRIVE collection is intended to help faculty thrive in their roles as educators, scholars, researchers, and clinicians. Each section contains a variety of thought-provoking topics that are designed to be easily digested, guide personal reflection, and put into action.

Please use the THRIVE collection to help:

- » Individuals study topics on their own, whenever and wherever they want
- » Peer-mentoring or other learning communities study topics in small groups
- » Leaders and planners strategically insert faculty development into existing meetings
- » Faculty identify campus experts for additional learning, grand rounds, etc.

This publication is produced by the University of Nebraska Medical Center Office of Faculty Development. © 2019 It may not be reproduced or distributed without prior permission.
