A message from the dean: Welcome to the spring 2021 semester

Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, you have demonstrated an extraordinary resilience and commitment to ongoing excellence and innovation, and I look forward to 2021 with a feeling of hope and confidence in the future of UNMC.

Please watch this short video [r20.rs6.net] for more information on the upcoming semester, and enjoy this issue of Graduate Posts that highlights just a few of the impressive achievements of our faculty, staff and students.

UNMC working to get all graduate students COVID-19 vaccinations

Most of the graduate students who want the COVID-19 vaccine have received their first dose.
Read more [r20.rs6.net]

UNMC, UNO partner in medical humanities course

Steve Langan, director of medical humanities at UNO, asked UNMC’s Laura Flores and Justin Grassmeyer, PhD, to help teach a writing class this semester.
Read more [r20.rs6.net]
Graduating student finds passion in medical research

Sumit Kar, PhD, aims to lead medical research that translates into improved patient care.

Read more [r20.rs6.net]

Popular Dissertation Boot Camp goes virtual - like everything else

The camp is a biannual four-day retreat to help PhD candidates overcome writing obstacles.

Read more [r20.rs6.net]

Upcoming events

- Third Thursday of each month: Professional Development Lunch and Learn [r20.rs6.net] series, TBA
- May 6: Convocation
- May 8: Commencement

Send your news to Graduate Posts

Is there something exciting going on in your department? Send your news to Graduate Posts to share with your colleagues at UNMC. Graduate Posts is published three times a year.

Email your news to us!

The Office of Graduate Studies
987815 Nebraska Medical Center
Omaha, NE 68198-7815
Phone: 402-559-6531
E-mail us
Visit our website [r20.rs6.net]