Dean’s message: Adapting to change, striving for excellence

Increasing immunization rates lead to positive events as campus prepares for fall semester.

Read more [r20.rs6.net]

Efforts to get grad students their COVID-19 vaccinations a success

University leaders worked with Graduate Studies to provide vaccination opportunities.

Read more [r20.rs6.net]

Convocation: Graduates have 'a spot in UNMC history'

John Lowe, PhD, spoke at May event, which honored 49 doctoral and master's graduates.

Read more [r20.rs6.net]
Student showcases healthful meals for infants, children
MD-PhD student Maranda Thompson teamed with Women's Center for Advancement on nutrition outreach efforts.

Read more [r20.rs6.net]

UNMC to offer master's degree in Health Delivery Science
The degree is designed to provide practicing health care professionals with knowledge pertaining to administrative and leadership competencies.

Read more [r20.rs6.net]

Upcoming events
- Third Thursday of each month (September through November): Professional Development Lunch and Learn series, noon, Durham Research Center
- Aug. 17: Matriculation, Durham Research Center, 5:30 p.m.

Send your news to Graduate Posts
Is there something exciting going on in your department? Send your news to Graduate Posts to share with your colleagues at UNMC. Graduate Posts is published three times a year.

Email your news to us!