THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ISLAMIC STUDIES & CULTURE

Grounded in faith and Islamic tradition, we will create an institution that will affirm the core values of Islam: Acceptance, Compassion, Equality, Justice and Peace.

The American Institute of Islamic Studies & Culture (AIISC) will serve as a worship and educational center with religious, cultural and social programming for local, national and international audiences:

• Open to worshipers from all branches of Islam and to people of all faiths
• Welcoming the full participation of men AND women as worshippers and leaders

The American Institute of Islamic Studies & Culture (AIISC) is a founding partner of Omaha's Tri-Faith Initiative: three Abrahamic faith congregations – Muslim, Jewish and Christian – that have joined together to create a multi-faith neighborhood. The group's collective vision is to build bridges of respect and acceptance; to challenge stereotypes of each other; to learn from each other; and to counter the influence of extremists and propagators of hate by engaging in a multifaceted dialogue and the promotion of mutual respect.

Welcoming people of all ages and faiths to explore the rich cultural and doctrinal diversity of Islam and to discover our common humanity.
