The Case for Supporting Our Teams

Why should healthcare organizations invest energy in employee well-being and resilience?

Covid-19: A Constant State of Stress for Healthcare Workers

Loss of Safety/Insecurity

- PPE Shortages
- Fear of Disease Transmission

Loss of Control/Unpredictable Events

- Continued Disease spread despite safety measures

Uncertainty/Change

- Changes to Policies and Procedures
- Need to make changes with little information (closing of units, moving seniors)

Loss of Life/Loved Ones

- Loss of seniors with whom special bonds were formed
- Personal Losses

Lack of Emotional Support

- Quarantine/Social Distancing/Healthcare workers separated from family
- Public Scrutiny of healthcare facilities
- Stigmatization

Moral/Inner Conflict

- Restricting patient/resident visitation
- Inadequate access to life-saving treatment

Overwork/Exhaustion/Lack of Self-Care

- Protracted Use of PPE
- Healthcare workers “service before self” mentality

Logo

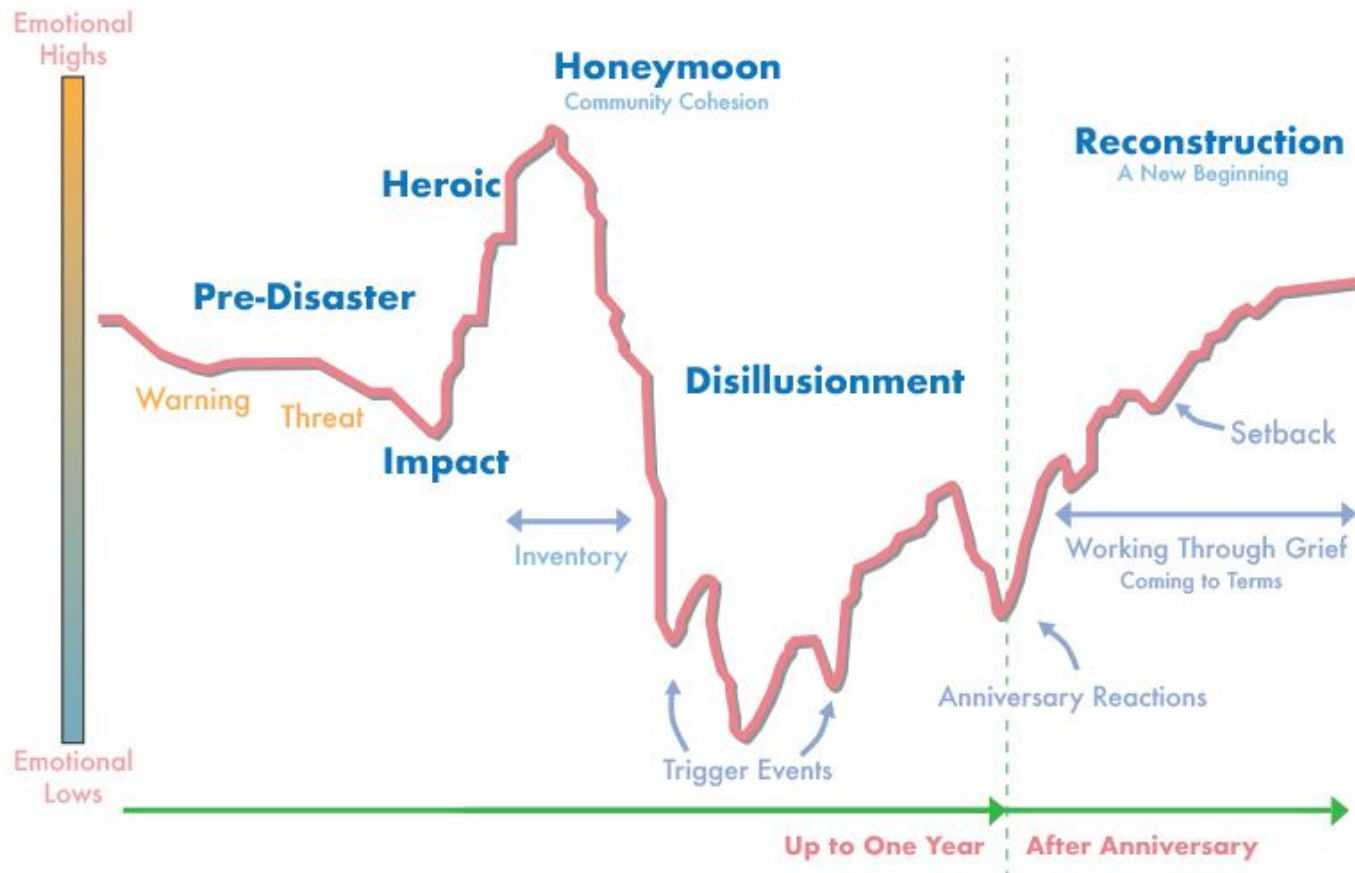

“The expectation that we can be immersed in suffering and loss daily and not be touched by it, is as unrealistic as expecting to be able to walk through water without getting wet.”

- Rachel Naomi Remen -

Healthy Ways to Cope with Stress

Mental Health and Crisis

Helping Others Cope

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a major effect on our lives. Many of us are facing challenges that can be stressful, overwhelming, and cause strong emotions in adults and children. Public health actions, such as social distancing, are necessary to reduce the spread of COVID-19, but they can make us feel isolated and lonely and can increase stress and anxiety. Learning to cope with stress in a healthy way will make you, the people you care about, and those around you become more resilient.

Stress can cause the following:

- Feelings of fear, anger, sadness, worry, numbness, or frustration
- Changes in appetite, energy, desires, and interests
- Difficulty concentrating and making decisions
- Difficulty sleeping or nightmares
- Physical reactions, such as headaches, body pains, stomach problems, and skin rashes
- Worsening of chronic health problems
- Worsening of mental health conditions
- Increased use of tobacco, alcohol, and other substances

It is natural to feel stress, anxiety, grief, and worry during the COVID-19 pandemic. Below are ways that you can help yourself, others, and your community manage stress.

Healthy Ways to Cope with Stress

COVID Coach App

COVID Coach

A mobile application for Veterans, Servicemembers, and anyone affected by the COVID-19 pandemic

Features:

- Education to help you improve your well-being during this global pandemic
- Tools for coping and self-care
- Trackers for mental health and personal goals
- Resources for additional support

Developed by the Mobile Mental Health Apps Team at the VA's National Center for PTSD.

Contact our team with feedback to help us improve this app:

The app interface features a teal header with a hamburger menu icon, the title "COVID Coach", and a clock icon. Below the header is a quote: "Your real influence is measured by your treatment of yourself. --A. Bronson Alcott". The main content area is a 2x2 grid of cards with nature-themed illustrations. The top-left card shows a sun and clouds with the text "MANAGE STRESS". The top-right card shows a green tree with the text "LEARN". The bottom-left card shows a park bench with a blue bird and the text "MOOD CHECK". The bottom-right card shows a tree in a field with the text "FIND RESOURCES".

Hear Me

Listen and act on lived experience to understand and address concerns to the extent organizations and leaders are able

Short huddles, in small groups or 1:1 where you can ask:

- What concerns do you have for residents, yourself, or the team?
- Are there steps we can take right now as a team?
- What good thing happened today?

Support Me

Support
Me

Provide training and support for high-quality care in different settings

- Do
 - Be present
 - Connect to purpose and meaning
 - Provide emotional and psychological support
 - Express gratitude
- Steps to try:
 - Ask and listen
 - Provide gentle reminders to practice self-care
 - Say thank you and be specific

Leave in Action

Speak to 5 staff members and ask them some version of the questions below:

What concerns do you have for residents, yourself, or the team?

Are there steps we can take right now as a team?

What good thing happened today?

Share next week what came up that was surprising or what new ideas emerged from problem solving
