

COPH Student Research Conference

2023 CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Dear College of Public Health students,

On behalf of the UNMC College of Public Health's Research and Development Committee and the Associate Dean for Research, we are delighted to remind you that the 2023 COPH Student Research Conference will take place April 3-7, 2023. Online presentations and discussion boards will be available for viewing all week. Live, synchronous interactive sessions will be available from 1pm-3pm on April 6th. Selected MPH and PhD students will present their research in a poster presentation and compete for ten $100 awards—five for MPH students and five for PhD students.

The deadline to submit abstracts is Monday, March 6th. Students will be notified of acceptance status and provided with more information about poster preparation by March 18th. Please consider submitting your research poster abstract for competition this year according to the following guidelines (required template attached):

- The research topic should be related/relevant to public health.
- The submitting student must be the work's first author.
- The abstract should be no more than 350 words.
- The abstract should include the following sections: purpose/objective, methods/efforts, results/findings, and application to the field/research.
- The abstract should be submitted in the provided template to briparr@unmc.edu or nsletten@unmc.edu
- The presentation must be made in short (5 minutes) video format (details provided upon selection).

All COPH students are welcome to participate, and they should contact Dr. Fabio Almeida at fabio.almeida@unmc.edu if there are any questions.
