Hemingford student selected for RHOP

Kaitlyn Bergfield of Hemingford is among the more than 20 students accepted into the Rural Health Opportunities Program at Wayne State College.

Bergfield is a biology major. She is the daughter of Kevin and Julie Bergfield. She participates in volleyball as a letter winner and team captain and basketball as a letter winner. She participated in one-act plays as a letter winner and district award winner. She was also class secretary, head of the prom decorating committee and listed on the honor roll.

Information about the RHOP program can be found at http://www.wsc.edu/schools/nss/rhop